

THE EPISTLE OF ST. THOMAS

St. Thomas Episcopal Church

Diocese of East Carolina
The Rt. Rev. Robert Skirving

March 2022

From the Senior Warden

In his penultimate sermon as our Rector, Jeff said that we are changed and transformed forever by following our faith, “and isn’t that the point of Christianity? Rebirth.” We are reborn in the church and as followers of Christianity, and that rebirth occurs each and every day that we live into our Baptismal Covenant.

Baptism in the Episcopal Church is, of course, a truly communal sacrament. When a priest performs a Baptism and when the Bishop confirms new members, we welcome the newly baptized and join with those making proclamations of their faith as a corporate body. The decision to baptize a child or to be confirmed may seem individual, but it is made through the support and strength of the community. Just as those individuals are joining the church, we each welcome them and join with them, as we reaffirm our own dedication to our faith. While the evidence of God’s grace manifests itself differently with and within each individual, we agree as a congregation to support our newest members just as we already support each other in walking the way of Christ. We have the privilege at various points in our spiritual lives to repeat this covenant and renew our commitment to our continual rebirth as members of the church. The powerful words of our Baptismal Covenant are found on page 292 of our Book of Common Prayer, and those words, drawn from the Apostle’s Creed (which we recite each time we complete the services of Morning and Evening Prayer) are a help and comfort to me when I think about my role in the church and my service to others.

I am especially comforted at those times that we can renew our covenant in a worship service, for there is a power in our unified voices, one that reminds me we are unified in our mission. The people’s antiphon in this covenant—“I will, with God’s help”—is a further powerful echo that we are not alone, nor need we ever think we are. Our church is small, but we are vibrant, and we are supportive and welcoming to all who are newly baptized and all seeking support and a spiritual home. We are changed and reborn, and we seek to change others.

We have proclaimed, by word and example, the Good News of God in Christ, to seek and serve Christ in all persons, loving our neighbors as ourselves, and to strive for justice and peace among all people, respecting the dignity of every human being. We may break bread fewer times in the upcoming months because of the dearth of supply, but we will break bread metaphorically throughout this new phase of church life, and we will most assuredly continue the Apostles’ teaching and fellowship. The Vestry will face and meet many challenges, but we will do so knowing that challenge—and change—are good things that lead to a healthy parish. We will embrace our new phase while still honoring our past; we will look to a vibrant future for us all. Will St. Thomas’ succeed in bringing Christ’s mission to Ahoskie and beyond? We will, with God’s help.

Respectfully submitted,
Hugh H. Davis, Senior Warden
